Comments

Coming off of 93 innings of work this spring, Delvecchio has worked at least five innings in each start this summer, with each one resulting in a Kokomo defeat. Throws an average fastball often early in counts. Locates his offspeed pitches well, especially the changeup, which is not much slower than the fastball, creating deception before it drops at the last second, leading to a 42% whiff rate. Likes to throw backdoor breaking balls to righties, but more commonly a changeup painted low and away.
